

CUNY CONFERENCE ON THE PHONOLOGY OF ENDANGERED LANGUAGES

Wednesday January 12th, 2011

8:00-8:45am Registration

8:45-9:00 Opening Remarks

Session I Stress, Accent and Metrical Structure Chair: Juliette Blevins

9:00-9:30 Ryan Bennett, University of California, Santa Cruz
Robert Henderson, University of California, Santa Cruz
Accent in Uspanteko

9:30-10:00 Hui-chuan J. Huang, Academia Sinica
Squliq Atayal Epenthetic Vowels

10:00-10:30 Beata Moskal, University of Connecticut
Clashes and Lapses: Responses to Edge Prominence

10:30-11:00 Stephanie Shih, Stanford University and University of California/Berkeley
Stress, Length, and Moraic Trochees in Northern Tiwa Picurís

11:00-11:30 COFFEE BREAK (registration will resume)

Invited Speaker

11:30-12:30 Patience Epps, University of Texas, Austin
Phonological diffusion in the Amazonian Vaupés

12:30-2:30 LUNCH

Session II Phonological Sketches Chair: Eric Raimy

2:30-3:00 Kelsie Pattillo, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
On Uyghur Consonant Clusters: Using Russian Loanwords for Studying Phonotactics

3:00-4:00 Meet the Endangered Language Alliance

4:00-4:30 COFFEE BREAK

Invited Speaker

4:30-5:30 Keren Rice, University of Toronto
Where does r come from and what does it tell us about Fort Good Hope Dene morphology?

6:00-8:00 Poster Session and Reception
CUNY Linguistics Department, 7th Floor, Room 7400 (Linguistics lounge)

Poster Presentations

Yi-Jie Joyce Chen, National Tsing Hua University
Reduplication of Nouns in Mayrinax Atayal

Aaron C. Emmitte, Louisiana State University
Le français CANADIEN: A Diasporic Approach to Affrication and Assibilation in Cajun French

Fuminobu Nishida, International Exchange Center, Akita University

A Phonology of Litang Choyo
Gwendolyn Hyslop, University of Oregon and Karma Tshering, Firebird Foundation
The Phonological Systems of Bhutan's Endangered Languages
Hijo Kang, Stony Brook University and Seongyeon Ko, Cornell University
Vowel contrast in endangered Northeast Asian languages: a case study of Buriat and Ewen
Noa Nishimoto, Kyoto University
Use of the Glottal Stop in the Tandroy Dialect of Malagasy

Thursday January 13th, 2011

8:00-9:00am Registration

Session III Segmental Phonology Chair: Daniel Kaufman
9:00-9:30 Birgit Alber, University of Verona
Voicing Contrasts in Mòcheno and Cimbri
9:30-10:00 David M. Eberhard, Summer Institute of Linguistics
Pre-Oralized Nasal Codas in Mamaindê
10:00-10:30 Amy Pei-jung Lee, National Dong Hwa University/Academia Sinica
The Phonological Patterning of the Segment /w/ in Paiwan and Seediq
10:30-11:00 Chris Rogers, University of Utah
Spontaneous Nasalization in Wichi'

11:00-11:30 COFFEE BREAK

Invited Speaker

11:30-12:30 Amanda Miller, Ohio State University
New Types of Complex and Contour Segments in Endangered Khoesan Languages

12:30-2:00 LUNCH

- Session IV Chair: Di Bradley
 2:00-2:30 Picus Sizhi Ding, University of Hong Kong
The Prosodic System of Japanese as a Subtype of Tone System: Evidence from Prinmi
- 2:30-3:00 Sophie Manus, Laboratoire Dynamique du Langage (CNRS) & Université Lumière Lyon 2
Simákonde Verb Tone
- 3:00-3:30 Jeremy Perkins, Rutgers University
 Seunghun J. Lee, Central Connecticut State University
A Tonal Study of an Endangered Language in China: The Case of Du'an Zhuang
- 3:30-4:00 Sophie Salfner, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London
Downstep in Ikaan
- 4:00-4:15 COFFEE BREAK
- 4:15-4:45 Nicholas Reid, University of New England, Australia
The Phonology of Reawakened Aboriginal Languages: Issues in Pronunciation and Authenticity in Language Revival in Australia
- 4:45-5:15 Khalsa Hamed al-Aghbari, University of Florida
Plurality in Jebbāli
- 5:15-5:30 COFFEE BREAK
- 5:30-6:00 Preview of "Languages Lost and Found: Speaking & Whistling the Mamma Tongue": A film written, produced and directed by Iris Brooks and Jon H. Davis, Narrated by William Hurt.

Friday January 14th, 2011

8:00-9:00am Registration

- Session V Chair: Robert Vago
 9:00-9:30 Bruce Connell, York University
 Akinbiyi Akinlabi, Rutgers University
 Will Bennett, Rutgers University
Variation in the Acoustic Structure of Defaka Vowels
- 9:30-10:00 Darya Kavitskaya, Yale University
Opacity and Prominence in Crimean Tatar
- 10:00-10:30 Jesse Lovegren, University at Buffalo
Explaining micro-variation in vowel inventories -- The case of Mungbam
- 10:30-11:00 Jason Zentz, Yale University
Progressive Front Vowel Harmony in Warlpiri: A Serial Harmony Approach
- 11:00-11:15 COFFEE BREAK

Invited Speaker

11:15-12:15 Erich Round, Yale University

What phonological diversity does and doesn't tell us: the consonants of Australian indigenous languages

12:15-1:30 LUNCH

Session VI Varia Chair: Chuck Cairns

2:00-2:30 Natalia Aralova, Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology
Sven Grawunder, Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology
Does Even have ATR? – Testing Phonological Hypotheses in an Endangered Language

2:30-3:00 James Crippen, University of British Columbia
Ryan Denzer-King, Rutgers University
Loanword Adaptation in Coastal Tlingit

3:00-3:30 Ryan Hendrickson, Indiana University
Julie Auger, Indiana University
Picard Verbal Morphology: What It Tells Us about Syllable Structure

3:30-4:00 Rory Turnbull, The Ohio State University
Magnus Phrao Hansen, Brown University
Ditte Boeg Thomsen, University of Copenhagen
How a Moribund Dialect can Contribute to the Bigger Picture: Insights from Acazolco Otomi

4:00-4:30 COFFEE BREAK

Invited Speaker

4:30-5:30 Matthew Gordon, University of California, Santa Barbara
Prosody in Endangered Languages: Case Studies from Circassian and Muskogean

6:00-8:00 Dinner at Ichiumi, 6 East 32nd St, two blocks south of the Graduate Center